Issue 16

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Colleagues,

Achieving a 10-year re-accreditation recommendation after our recent NCA site visit certainly qualifies as an occasion meriting a Franciscan celebration, i.e., one with food! Therefore, I am inviting all of you on the main campus to a lunchtime picnic next Monday, May 17, in Serra Hall from noon to 1:30 p.m. to commemorate our hard-earned achievement. Our regional offices will also be provided with lunch to celebrate, albeit from a distance.

John Stewart, who runs our food service program, Food Services, Inc., is donating the food for the celebration and I want to thank him for his generosity.

I hope to see you all there, where we can share a hot dog or a brat and give ourselves a well-deserved pat on the back for the collective effort that was necessary to attain this success. Thanks again to all of you for your hard work and dedication to Stritch.

With God's blessing,

Mary Lee

Students name faculty, staff of the year

Two instructors in the History and Political Science Department and a campus minister have been chosen by Stritch students for the Educators of the Year and Staff Person of the Year awards.

Susan Adam

Terry Roehrig, an associate professor and chair of the department, was chosen full-time educator of the year. Bill Dahlk was honored as adjunct educator of the year, and Susan Adam, a campus minister, was named staff person of the year. The latter is a new honor given for the first time this year.

All three were recognized at the April 28 Honors Convocation, where student representatives lauded them for consistently extending themselves to help students in their studies and their lives.

Information sessions set on next Bonaventure moves

Jack Glynn, vice president for Facilities, will hold information sessions May 25 and 27 on the personnel moves that will take place at the completion of Phase I of the Bonaventure Hall renovation project.

A total of 116 people will be moving in preparation for Phase II. Fifty-five will go to their new permanent locations in Bonaventure Hall. The other 61 will be moved from their current locations into temporary space, to make way for the demolition and reconstruction of Bonaventure.

All employees located in the south end of Bonaventure Hall are encouraged to attend one of these sessions. The meetings are open, however, to all employees who are interested in the moves. There will be a question/answer period at the end of the presentation.

Both meetings will be held in Schroeder Auditorium at the following times:

Tuesday, May 25: 1:30-2:30 p.m.

Thursday, May 27: 3-4 p.m.

Graduation: All in the family

Three members of a family, one brother and two sisters, will be graduating together this Sunday from Stritch's Master of Education in Education program.

Heather Miller, 30, and her sister Natasha Miller, 32, have been teachers in Milwaukee for a number of years. Natasha is at Garfield Avenue Elementary and Heather at Lee Elementary. They wanted to get a master's degree, looked online for accelerated programs and chose Stritch.

Their brother, Ken, 25, had just graduated from UWM, "and I was still in a student mode, so I decided to join them."

Ken Miller said being in a cohort with his sisters was crazy at times, but overall fun and beneficial. "At least we already knew two other people on our study team! We had another member, but we just adopted her as a Miller," he said with a laugh. The group usually met in the Millers' South Side Milwaukee family home, where Ken and Natasha live.

The two sisters are looking forward to using their Stritch education in their classrooms. Ken is continuing his education at UWM, seeking a degree in early childhood education.

Student reps wear COB T-shirt with pride

Class representatives in the College of Business have a new look. The COB shirts were given as a special recognition to signify the important role the reps play in the COB program. Representatives act as liaisons between COB students and college administration. The shirt is modeled by David Fono, a class rep who is currently enrolled in the Region I MBA program.
